British Values in Jigsaw by Puzzle and Year Group

OFSTED Inspection Framework Sept 19 states that inspection will consider whether - “the provider prepares learners for life in modern Britain by: equipping them to be responsible, respectful, active citizens who contribute positively to society; developing their understanding of fundamental British values; developing their understanding and appreciation of diversity; celebrating what we have in common and promoting respect for the different protected characteristics as defined in law”

Our British Values article indicates which Puzzles are most related to which aspects of the British Values expectations. As I am sure you are aware, there is much threaded throughout all the lessons that supports this, but this document shows which lessons we feel are most pertinent to different areas.

The Mapping Document is a simple tool to show how the concepts and ideals of British Values are visited and revisited throughout the programme, so that they are fully embedded in the whole school approach rather than being taught as one off lessons. This enables you to see where content of Jigsaw may tie in with other British Values teaching and learning in your school.

One of the key aspects of Jigsaw is how we enable and teach children to have respectful discussions on even sensitive subjects in the classroom by providing a safe learning environment and building age appropriate content into the lessons which of course become more complex as children get older, and children are able to build on previous knowledge and skill to develop their ability to listen to other respectfully, debate other people’s views respectfully and consider ways that we can be accepting of those who may be different to ourselves. This is of course a key aspect of teaching children about Mutual Respect as well as tolerance of those of different faiths and beliefs as these aspects will at times be part of these discussions.

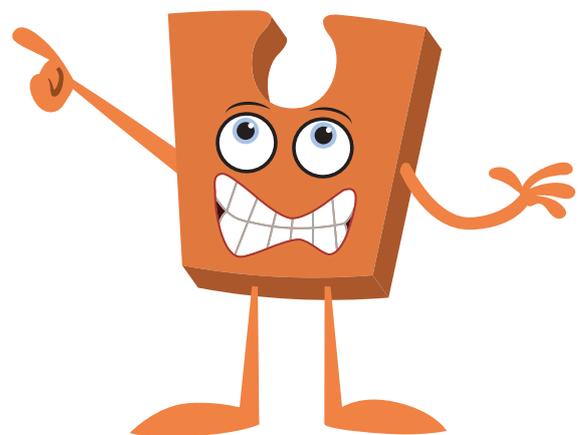

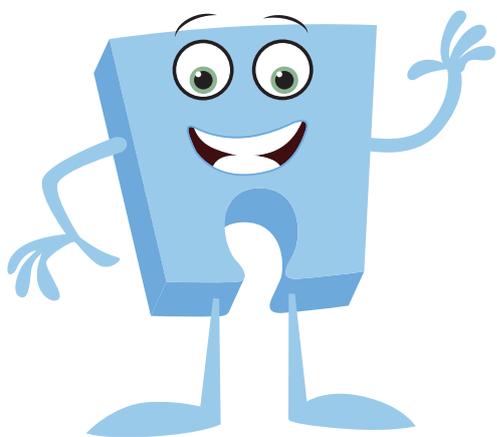

To look at the different aspects and how these are developed, you can follow the progression through the whole school progression document or even the Knowledge Organisers that can be shared with parents and also contain relevant questions in many aspects related to British Values that children can continue to build on in discussions at home.
